You have just inherited $25 million dollars from your long lost crazy aunt who saved every penny she earned. However, there are stipulations put in place in order for you to receive your inheritance. If these stipulations are not met, and met to the exact specifications that are given to you, you will forfeit the entire sum of money and it will be distributed to your aunt's board of directors.

In order to receive the entire $25 million dollars, you must:

1. Designate ONE charity that will receive $1 million dollars. You must explain why there is a need for the charity to receive that funding and defend your selection to a board put in place by your aunt prior to her death. In your defense, you must provide at least THREE reasons why the organization that you have selected deserves/is in need of the money. You may only select one charity to receive the entire $1 million dollars.
2. You are also required to do community service in order to receive the $25 million. You are required to select ONE charity/organization that you will donate 100 hours of your own time on. You must defend your selection to the board by explaining why the charity is in need of your assistance. You must SHOW THAT THERE IS A NEED for volunteers. You must also provide at least THREE reasons why the organization that you have selected deserves/is in need of volunteers. You will again, have to defend this to the board, so make sure that you have as much information as possible displaying the importance of your assistance.

Remember that in order to receive the $25 million dollars, you must defend both of your choices and provide at least three reasons for selecting each charity. If you do not, the $25 million will not be yours.
